TALKED ABOUT IN WESTERLY

Malcolm P. Decker Wins Bride in Manton—Removal of Crosswalks—Joseph A. Brown, Wanted for Burglaries, Arrested by Police Sergeant West—Band Concert in Wilcox Park.

Malcolm Parsons Decker, son of Rev. and Mrs. Frank H. Decker, who was a resident of Westerly when he was pastor of the Pawcatuck Congregational church, just before his departure, was married Wednesday evening, the bride being Miss Stephanie Decker, daughter of the late Eugene Decker, of Westerly. The ceremony was in St. Peter's church, Manton, with Rev. Alvin E. Carpenter, pastor of the church officiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Decker.

The bride was accompanied by her brother, Harold E. Decker, of New York, who gave her away. She was attended by Miss Madeline Peirce as maid of honor; six bridesmaids, Miss Annabelle King of Newport, Miss Marjorie Ward of Westerly, Miss Marion Mackie, Miss Edith Macintosh and Miss Marion Combe of Providence and two flower girls, Faith Decker, niece of the bride, and Barbara Brand, a cousin of the bride. Mr. Decker's best man was Truman Rockwell of Providence, and the best men were Raye Sheldermine and Albert A. Bruel, brother of the bride of Providence, and William J. Burns and Percy S. Jones of Boston.

The bride wore white satin, with tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet. The maid of honor wore a light-colored chiffon tulle, and the bridesmaids wore light-colored gowns in pastel shades of the rainbow colors, with marine hats and muffs to match the gowns. The flower girls wore pink Georgette crepe and carried baskets of roses.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, which was beautifully decorated with pink and white roses.

Gradually the village of Westerly is becoming civilized, and with mild protest of staid citizens, in some instances. For the better accommodation of automobiles, the town is removing the crosswalks at the head of Broad street, and leading several streets, including the post office, are being removed. The objectors claim that the absence of these crosswalks will increase the danger to the lives of pedestrians as a public way for pedestrians and automobilists exercised special care in approaching them, especially the one leading from the hotel, as it was not located at any street junction.

One of the objectors said: "I was opposed to the removal of that crosswalk from Main street, because years ago when that section of the street was paved, but all opposition was removed when the paving was completed, and the white lines were the pavers and keeps a clear way for walkers when the snow comes. But the street is not paved where the crosswalks are being removed at the present time, and therefore is beyond the jurisdiction of the white lines, and, therefore, in winter, as well as in summer, broad streets cannot be crossed with that same safety as when the crosswalks aided pedestrians in a sort of right of way in crossing the street that was recognized by operators of vehicles generally."

Joseph A. Brown, a fugitive from justice, and wanted for burglary in Pawtucket and in Norton, Mass., was arrested early Thursday morning by Police Sergeant West, in Westerly, and given into the custody of Chief Inspector McCarthy. Brown was in police, who was accompanied by Chief of Police Scanlon of Norton. Brown and two others, travelling by automobile, committed several burglaries in Massachusetts and one in Pawtucket. His two pals were captured, but Brown got away and officers have been seeking him for the past three weeks.

Police Officers McCarthy and Scanlon arrived in Westerly shortly after ten o'clock, by automobile, and with the aid of Sergeant West, they arrested Brown under strict surveillance. So the officers decided to defer his arrest until he went to his boarding house on Main street, Westerly. He was kept under surveillance until he entered his boarding house, and action was delayed until he went to bed. Then the exits were guarded and he was taken to the police station and placed him under arrest.

Brown was turned over to the Pawtucket officers, and soon after left in the automobile with the two other Massachusetts officers accompanying Brown's most serious offense was committed in Massachusetts, and he said he would have extradition routine and go to Norton with Chief Scanlon, if agreeable to the Pawtucket police. He preferred the biggest dose of punishment first, he said.

MYSTIC

Methodist Pastor and Family Start on Vacation—Gift From Choir to Mrs. James Johnson.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Dunnack and daughter Edna Dunnack, left Thursday for Brockton, Mass., and in a few days will proceed to Camden, Me., where they will spend July. Mr. Dunnack, who is pastor of the M. E. church, has worked hard in Mystic and for some time has been having a throat trouble for which he hopes to receive much relief while away.

Leave for Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson left on Thursday for Detroit, Mich., to visit Mr. Johnson's home. They expect to be gone a year. Mrs. Johnson, who has been soprano soloist in the Methodist church for over a year, will be greatly missed. Before her departure she was presented by the members of the choir a handsome Eastern Star pin.

News Briefly Told.

As has been his custom ever since he assumed the management of the New Watch Hill house, Captain Adolph E. Dick, junior vice-commander of George Washington post, Grand Army of the Republic, of New York city, will entertain his comrades at his hostelry the first week in July. The party will arrive Saturday, July 2, and a banquet will be held in their honor on that evening. Sunday morning the Civil War veterans will attend services in the Watch Hill Union chapel. The comrades will be at ease during the balance of their visit, except for a social hour each day, to determine which of them really suppressed the rebellion, although it is conceded in advance that he had some assistance.

Among those who have accepted invitations are: Colonel Henry L. Swindle, commander of Washington post, General James N. Allison, senior vice-commander, Rear Admiral Chas. D. Sigbee, United States navy, retired; George DeForest, paymaster, Captain William M. Burrows, Rev. William S. Hubbard, chaplain, Major George Brock, Captain Augustus Curtis, Captain William Sturgis, Captain Beverly Robinson, General Anson G. McCook, Colonel A. H. Greene, Carlos McDonald. The wives of most of the veterans will accompany them.

The Westerly band, that is to play for the Norwich Knights of Columbus in the Fourth of July parade in that city, rendered the fourth band concert of the season in Wilcox park Thursday evening. The programme, arranged by Leader Charles O. Ravitt, was as follows: March, Hail to the Spirit of Liberty; overture, Raymond; popular air, Leading Up to the Mandy Lane; chorale solo, Louis Solomon; Grand National Fantasia; popular air, Come Back to Dixie; duet for cornet and trombone, Messrs. Gavitt and Kessel; Grand Selection from Bohemian Girl; Scotch Overture, Bonny Tunes; popular air, They Didn't Believe Me; march, Ye Ancients; finale, Star Spangled Banner.

PRESIDENT WILSON IS IN A FIGHTING MOOD. So Informers Crowd in Speech in Independence Square, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, June 29.—President Wilson, describing himself as "in a fighting mood," enunciated today to a large crowd in Independence square his conception of some of the cardinal American ideals. He declared that America in dealing with other nations must "vindicate at whatever cost its principles of liberty, justice and humanity;" that "America first" must be translated into action exalting it above all selfish interests, and that the nation's policy and development must be guided by the whole people and not by any group.

Applause repeatedly interrupted the address. The crowd, led particularly by the president's declaration that American principles must be vindicated in
